

VOLUNTEER EXTRAORDINAIRE

Byline: Ellie Eichler

Ethel Hartnett has been a resident of Southwinds for 33 years. She moved here to be a caregiver for a resident. During this time, she met and married Charles Hartnett in 1984. Charlie passed away in 1999. Ethel had 2 adult sons at that time, Richard who passed away in 2013 and Neil who passed away in 2016. Ethel also lost her last sibling, a brother in 2014. Southwinds is now her family and she is loved and respected by all that know her.

In 1983, a resident asked her to join her at Bingo. That was the beginning of the long journey that Ethel is still on. Ethel was asked to be in charge in the summer time and she is still doing this job whether there are 5 or 25 attending. She is there to turn on the lights, set out the cards etc. A tough job, sometimes, is finding callers in the summer time. She has some that are faithful workers and they make her job easier. She makes sure the bingo board is working and reports any problems. Remember, this is a volunteer job. She is what volunteering is all about.

So any Monday or Friday night you will find Ethel waiting to take your money, and her helpers will help return some of the money to the lucky winners. As for the rest of the week, you will find her playing Euchre, Pinochle, Pennies, and any game you will invite her to. This is why Ethel is a "young" 92 -

Since Ellie wrote this article: Ethel fell at church - she didn't break any bones, but she hurt her muscles. She recently has been in the hospital because of her back and was recovering from that. She is really hurting. Our best wishes for a quick recovery.

And my thanks to Ellie for becoming a reporter again. Great job, Ellie!!!!

Thank you Gerry for taking charge for July events. We do appreciate it.

As there are not any regular board meetings over the summer, I thought I'd just continue to update some of the work our maintenance department is doing. These are just a few of the many extras they perform each month.

SOUTHWINDS MAINTENANCE

Sealed roof seams on the pool pump house with elastic crack sealer

- Removed old stove from rental #40 and moved in new stove. Detweiler's will do the propane hook-up
- Painted the outside of the pool block wall
- Seeded and put down straw in the area around the office parking lot
- Brought more dirt and graded around the pickle ball court, seeded and put down straw
- Replaced luminescent panel in rec hall

NORA CHISAMORE

Again, thanks to Carol Proteau:

Reached Nora, and she is home. She is very weak. She said, "this was a rough one" and is happy to be home. She has follow up with her surgeon/doctor on Monday the 27th. I have no other news, if there are more treatments, etc. They are still watching the complications. She'll be checked on the clot in the lung, and also the pneumonia.

We are all hoping she continues to improve and that her progress will soon be at a better pace, than it has. She tires very easily; her voice is weak.

Hope all our Southwinds' family and friends are doing well.
Such a special place and special people.

I will try to get a new update and send it out as soon as possible.
